COMM 110 (Hybrid)
Introduction to Speech

Spring Session 14/14 March 23rd – May 16th, 2015

Course Description

This course introduces students to basic skills necessary to function effectively in public communication situations, including informative and persuasive speaking. In addition, the students will develop abilities to analyze and evaluate oral discourse as a means of becoming informed consumers of communication.

Prerequisite: None

Class Day and Time: (Tuesday, 5:30 pm – 8:30 pm)

This is a hybrid course which is defined as an online course supported by a weekly in-seat class. Our class will consist both in-seat and online instruction through various resources, discussion and homework. Please note that we will meet every week, unless otherwise noted.

You are expected to attend every class. If you know prior to the beginning of the session that you will miss more than one in-seat class, it is strongly recommended that you wait to take this course at another time.

The online portion of our course is located in D2L. You will access the course through CougarTrack.

Textbooks

Textbooks for the course may be ordered from MBS Direct:

- online at http://direct.mbsbooks.com/columbia.htm
- by phone at 800-325-3252

Assignment Overview

Readings (Before Class)

All readings and lecture review should be completed prior to coming to the in-seat portion of class.

You should utilize the information from the readings and incorporate it into all assignments within the course.
Discussions

Discussions are an integral part of this course and represent a significant portion of the final grade. The discussions for this course are broken into In Class and Online discussions. You must complete both portions to receive full points. Discussion activities are designed to help extend your learning into the real world and bridge the gap between theory and practice.

Discussion topics will be based on the chapter material defined in the weekly course schedule. You are encouraged to interact with your classmates in all discussions. Additional online discussion topics may be introduced as needed.

In Class Discussions

We will also have Discussions as part of our in-seat portion of the hybrid. In order to earn these points, you must attend the in-seat class. These in-seat discussions will cover topics from the readings and the previous week’s work. You should come prepared to the in-seat session ready to actively participate in all classroom discussions.

Online Discussions

Since this is a hybrid course, a portion of your discussion points will be awarded for your online discussion work. You should read the requirements and do any required internet research necessary. Then prepare a well worded and thoughtful response to each question asked, relating your answer directly to the results of your research and the classroom discussion.

You must post your own discussion response before you are given access to read and reply to other messages posted by classmates. This encourages original thought without influence from other existing messages. Students will be able to see the number of unread messages in the updates widget and on the main discussion page, but when you access the topic the following message appears: You must compose a message before you can view or reply to other messages in this topic. Any boxes opened and not completed (to get around the system) will receive an automatic deduction in the grade for that discussion. If you do have a system error contact me ASAP. Additionally, some threads do not use this feature as it is helpful for students to view other’s posts.

Conventions of “netiquette” (online etiquette), which include courtesy to all users, will be observed online and the equivalent will be observed in the classroom setting. Your initial online discussion post is due by Thursday at 11:59 pm Central Time (CT). You must respond to at least two other students by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT.

Preparation Outlines (Online)

You must submit an outline for each speech during the week before you present the speech. Files should be submitted as Microsoft Word (.doc or .docx) or Rich Text Format (.rtf) files in the appropriate dropbox. Preparation outlines cannot be revised to improve your grade. Include at least one nonInternet source in the bibliography. Do not use Wikipedia as a source of information. You can find more information regarding Preparation Outlines in the Content area.

Submit your outline to the appropriate Dropbox folder by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT of the assigned week.

Speeches (In Class)

The heart of this course is speech. You must complete five short speeches (3-9 minutes) during the course. You will present them in front of the class during the in-seat portion of the course. You may use notes for your speech. You can find a more detailed description of each speech in the Content area.
Peer Critiques (Online)
You will write a critique of 8 of the speeches available on the Connect site. The specific speeches to view will be described in the Content area. Using one or two sentences per criterion, state what you believe to be one strength in the student’s performance, one weakness, and one suggestion for improvement.

Your peer critique must be submitted to the appropriate Dropbox folder by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT of the appropriate week.

Self-Critiques (In Class)
You will critique your first two speeches. State what you believe to be one strength in your own performance, one weakness, and one suggestion for improvement. Immediately after delivering Speeches 1 and 2, write your first impression of one strength in your own performance, one weakness, and one suggestion for improvement.

All Self-Critiques are due by the end of class following your speech.

Written Critique (Online)
You will observe and critique a live (face-to-face) public speech outside of class delivered by a trained, prominent public speaker during the current session. If you are unable to do this, you may observe a recorded public speech delivered by a trained, prominent public speaker. You must establish that the speaker has a national reputation as a public speaker. You can find more information regarding the format of this critique in the Content area.

Your paper must be submitted to the appropriate Dropbox folder by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT of the appropriate week.

Quizzes (Online)
There will be five quizzes during this course. There will be 20 items on each quiz; you will have 30 minutes to take each quiz. Check the FAQ about how to avoid having your browser kick you off a quiz before completing it.

Your quizzes must be submitted by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT of the appropriate week.

Course Schedule

Week 1: Speaking, Listening, and Speech Preparation
Readings (Before Class)
• Chapter 1
• Chapter 3
• Chapter 4

In Class Discussion 1
During the in-seat portion of the class, discussion will focus on the topics from the readings and questions that you and your classmates have from the week’s information. You must be in attendance to receive credit for this portion of the discussion.
Introductions (Optional Discussion)
Introduce yourself in the "Introductions" topic of our Week 1 Discussion forum. Include your profession, hobbies, interest in speech communication, your major or program of study, and any other information that can help us get to know you. Discuss what benefits you expect to gain from your study of public speaking.

Online Discussion 1
Being an effective public speaker requires you to know yourself. Knowing what your strengths and weaknesses are, both as a speaker and listener, will make you a more effective communicator.

• Discuss the element in the speech communication process which gives you, personally, the most difficulty in public speaking.
• Identify obstacles to effective listening that challenge you the most, and explain what can be done to overcome these obstacles.

Your initial post is due by Thursday at 11:59 pm CT. Your two responses are due by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT.

Peer Critique 1 (Online)
Submit your peer critique to the appropriate Dropbox folder by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT.

Quiz 1 (Online)
Complete Quiz 1 over Chapters 1, 3, and 4 by Sunday at 11:59 pm CT.

Course Policies

Student Conduct
All Columbia College students, whether enrolled in a land-based or online course, are responsible for behaving in a manner consistent with Columbia College's Student Conduct Code and Acceptable Use Policy. Students violating these policies will be referred to the office of Student Affairs and/or the office of Academic Affairs for possible disciplinary action. The Student Code of Conduct and the Computer Use Policy for students can be found in the Columbia College Student Handbook. The Handbook is available online; you can also obtain a copy by calling the Student Affairs office (Campus Life) at 573-875-7400. The teacher maintains the right to manage a positive learning environment, and all students must adhere to the conventions of online etiquette.

Plagiarism
Your grade will be based in large part on the originality of your ideas and your written presentation of these ideas. Presenting the words, ideas, or expression of another in any form as your own is plagiarism. Students who fail to properly give credit for information contained in their written work (papers, journals, exams, etc.) are violating the intellectual property rights of the original author. For proper citation of the original authors, you should reference the appropriate publication manual for your degree program or course (APA, MLA, etc.). Violations are taken seriously in higher education and may result in a failing grade on the assignment, a grade of "F" for the course, or dismissal from the College.

Collaboration conducted between students without prior permission from the instructor is considered plagiarism and will be treated as such. Spouses and roommates taking the same course should be particularly careful.

All required papers may be submitted for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers may be included in the Turnitin.com reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. This service is subject to the Terms and Conditions of Use posted on the Turnitin.com site.

A plagiarism tutorial is located in the content area of the D2L website. Additionally, work that was completed in a prior course and submitted in the current course will not be accepted.

Non-Discrimination
There will be no discrimination on the basis of sex, race, color, national origin, sexual orientation, religion, ideology, political affiliation, veteran status, age, physical handicap, or marital status.

Disability Services
Students with documented disabilities who may need academic services for this course are required to register with the Coordinator for Disability Services at (573) 875-7626. Until the student has been cleared through the disability services office, accommodations do not have to be granted. If you are a student who has a documented disability, it is important for you to read the entire syllabus before enrolling in the course. The structure or the content of the course may make an accommodation not feasible.

Attendance Policy
Attendance for a week will be counted as having submitted a course assignment for which points have been earned during that week of the session or if the proctoring information has been submitted or the plagiarism quiz taken if there is no other assignment due that week. A class week is defined as the period of time between Monday and Sunday (except for Week 8, when the week ends in accordance with the campus end date). The course and system deadlines are all based on the Central Time Zone.

Email
All students are provided a CougarMail account when they enroll in classes at Columbia College. You are responsible for monitoring email from that account for important messages from the College and from your instructor. You may forward your Cougar email account to another account; however, the College cannot be held responsible for breaches in security or service interruptions with other email providers.

Students should use email for private messages to the instructor and other students. The class discussions are for public messages so the class members can each see what others have to say about any given topic and respond.

Late Assignment Policy
A hybrid class requires regular participation and a commitment to your instructor and your classmates to regularly engage in the reading, discussion and writing assignments. Although most of the communication for this course is asynchronous, you must be able to commit to the schedule of work for the class for the next eight weeks. You must keep up with the schedule of reading and writing to successfully complete the class.

Course Evaluation
You will have an opportunity to evaluate the course near the end of the session. Course evaluations will open on Sunday of Week 5 and will remain open until Thursday of Week 7. A link will be sent to your CougarMail that will allow you to access the evaluation. Be assured that the evaluations are anonymous and that your instructor will not be able to see them until after final grades are submitted.
