Columbia College’s Refund Policy:

Students with financial aid who drop or withdraw from a course(s) need to be aware that their financial aid could be affected. Refunds shall be made within 30 days of the date that Columbia College determines that the student has withdrawn.

1. Full Refund: A student is entitled to a full reduction of tuition and course charges (excluding the admission fee, textbooks, and other academic resource materials) when he/she drops from a course(s) during the first week within 3 working days from the Florida student signing an enrollment agreement or contract of the eight-week session, providing a Columbia College add/drop/withdrawal form has been completed and submitted prior to the close of business on Monday of the second week of the session.

2. Partial Refund: During the second through the eighth week of the session, a student could be entitled to a partial refund of tuition and course charges (excluding the admission fee, lab fees, textbooks, and other academic resource materials) when he/she withdraws from a course(s) due to extraordinary circumstances (refer to the Academic Regulations section of the AHE Degree Completion Catalog for further details). To be considered for a partial refund, a student must submit a complete add/drop/withdrawal form. This form must be accompanied by a letter from the student explaining the circumstances surrounding the withdrawal and the desire for financial consideration. In addition, Columbia College requires substantiating documentation to support the student's request. Students should be aware that a refund is not automatic; rather, requests for financial consideration are subject to review and approval by the Vice President for Adult Higher Education.

3. No Refund: No refund will be granted to a student who voluntarily or involuntarily (administratively) withdraws from a course(s) during the second through the eighth week of a session, unless extraordinary circumstances apply (refer to partial refund information listed above). Nonrefundable fees regarding admission and registration of Florida students shall not exceed $150.

4. Refund Requests: Credit on a student account that results from the transfer of financial aid does not require a request for refund. These credit balances will automatically be refunded. Credit balances due to overpayment or a change in enrollment status must have a Refund Request Form submitted to the Accounting Office. This will inform the Accounting Office that the student wants to have a refund rather than have the credit apply to a future balance.

Petition and Appeals: Unresolved conflict should be submitted to the Higher Learning Commission or the Commission for Independent Education.

Financial Aid: For those who qualify, financial aid is available through Columbia College and is awarded at the main campus. In addition to the information provided in the 2016-2017 Undergraduate catalog, students can contact the Enrollment Service Center office at 1-800-231-2391, extension 7252.

Transfer of Columbia College Credits: Columbia College courses are normally accepted by other regionally-accredited institutions of higher learning. However, all colleges and universities reserve the right to determine those credits they will accept in transfer.

Credit: Columbia College uses semester credit hours. Sixty (60) credit hours are required for associate degrees and 120 credit hours required for bachelor's degrees. Courses are eight-weeks in length and are, generally, three credit hours each.

Course Numbering: Columbia College course numbering system follows standard practices:

- 1xx – indicates freshman level course
- 2xx – indicates sophomore level course
- 3xx – indicates junior level course
- 4xx – indicates senior level course

Nontraditional Programs: Distance education courses are available through Online Education located in Columbia, MO. All academic and administration policies and procedures identified in the 2016-2017 Undergraduate catalog also pertain to the nontraditional program.
