These figures were sourced from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, (U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Outlook Handbook, 2016-17 Edition, BLS.gov/OOH) and represent the 2016 median pay for these occupations nationally. Earning your degree does not guarantee that you will earn these amounts.

Earn your degree with Columbia College!

Columbia College is a private, nonprofit institution that’s been around since 1851. Students look to us when:

• They need a quality, accredited degree but not the debt that often comes with it (who does?) Our tuition is half the national average* and financial aid may also be available to help manage costs and minimize debt.
• They need the flexibility of evening and online classes to fit school around their schedule.
• They need their degree fast, like three and half years for a bachelor’s fast or 20 months for an associate.
• Going back to school seems daunting, but less so with small classes, accessible professors and free tutoring services to help with coursework.

Let’s talk about how we can help you earn your degree. Call, email or start by applying today!

Study criminal justice administration

Working in criminal justice gives you an opportunity to make a positive impact on society. Studying criminal justice administration can lead to a wide range of careers within the field or for continued study at graduate or law school. Columbia College offers Associate in Science and Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice Administration degrees. In addition, you also have the option to complete a Crime Scene Investigation certificate, giving you a grounding in the identification, documentation and preservation of evidence at crime scenes.

What you’ll learn

In the criminal justice administration program, you’ll study criminal procedures, law, justice systems, judicial process, corrections and penology amongst other topics, and will graduate with a comprehensive set of skills and knowledge that will prepare you for a rewarding career in the field.
